MONOLOGUES

WADSWORTH: Ladies and gentlemen, my instructions are clear. It seems the six of you have one thing in common. You are all being blackmailed. For some considerable time all of you have been paying what you can afford—and, in some cases, more than you can afford—to someone who threatens to expose you. Until tonight, none of you knew who was blackmailing you. I hope I'm correct that the more deductive among you have reasoned in the last several moments that it was, of course, Mr. Boddy himself—and that the less discerning members of our cadre are experiencing that particular revelation right about...now. Six suspects. Six murders. Mr. Boddy in the Billiard Room. The Cook in the Kitchen. The Motorist in the Lounge. The Cop in the Library. Yvette in the Ballroom. And the Singing Telegram Girl in the Hall. Not to mention one "confidential" envelope of missing, damning evidence. Our evening's guests may be gifted at breaking the law, but they clearly need work on breaking a case. So, who is the killer you may ask? I'm sure you have your suspicions. But, we've no time to discuss that now. (Looks at his watch.) The police are nearly here.

MRS. PEACOCK: "Behold," said the Lord, "I am bringing the flood of water upon the earth, to destroy all flesh." Thank you, Lord, for this meal we are about to receive and for the gracious host, whomever he is, that has invited us here tonight. Amen. Well, I guess I'll break the ice, I mean, I'm used to being a hostess; it's part of my husband's work, plus I always host the ladies' group from my church on Sundays. It's difficult when a group of new friends meet for the first time, so I'll start the ball rolling...I mean, I have no idea what we're doing here, but I'm very intrigued and oh, my, this soup's delicious isn't it? Oh, come on. How are we to get acquainted if we don't say anything about ourselves? No judgments here; we're all God's children. If I wasn't trying to keep the conversation going, then we would just be sitting here in an embarrassed silence. Well, what's all this about, Butler; this dinner party?

MRS. WHITE: I don't want a scandal. We had a very humiliating public confrontation. He was deranged. He was a lunatic. He didn't actually seem to like me that much. He had threatened to kill me in public. He was a stupidly optimistic man. I'm afraid it came as a great shock to him when he died. He was found dead at home. His head had been cut off. But, it wasn't me. I'd been out all evening, at the movies. He wasn't a very good illusionist. But my third husband, I miss him the most. He was an electrician...well—until he was electrocuted. I didn't kill him! I mean...yes, I'll admit it-I recognized Yvette...she had a torrid love affair with my late husband. I hated her. I hated her SO MUCH. It...it...the...FLAMES. On the side of my face. Breathing. HEAVING...breaths...

MONOLOGUES

MR. BODDY: You each pay me twice what you've been paying, and I'll tell the police it was a phony call and send them on their way. You refuse...and I put this briefcase—containing all the evidence needed to expose your wrongdoings—in the hands of the police and the press. I believe some of you would face a lifetime of jail, and others, a lifetime of shame. In this bag there are six gifts I've brought you from Washington. Things I thought you might find useful this evening. You all showed up here tonight because you believed the evidence against you was so terrible that you would do almost anything to keep it a secret. I'm putting that theory to the test. Mr. Wadsworth here is the only other person who knows your secrets; and it's costing me—and you—dearly to keep him quiet. You see, I wouldn't have to double your payments if I didn't have to pay Mr. Wadsworth for his silence.

MISS SCARLET: Oh, who cares?! We're still in the dark anyway! We're no closer to solving our murder mysteries or unearthing the evidence against us. I found you lurking conspicuously in the Conservatory. The scarlet flowers opened the secret passage to the Lounge, but if I remember correctly, Scarlet flowers always have five petals. This one only had four! Meaning you had already plucked a petal to the passage to the Lounge, where you pummeled the Motorist to death with the Wrench. Then you shot the Singing Telegram Girl before she could finish her cramprolls! Wonder what kinda dirt she had on you. Bet she was an old patient of yours, or something right? Wait a minute! We can all rush him. He's got no more bullets left in that gun. There was one shot at Mr. Boddy in the Study, two for the cat, two at the Lounge door and one for the singing telegram. One plus two plus two plus one.

MR. GREEN: I hold in my hand an FBI file on the whole big Boddy family. Your butler, Wadsworth, had been feeding us information for months. I can see why you killed him. Your shot missed him in the Study, but he wisely played dead. Awfully good actor. Had us all convinced. But while we were all racing from the kitchen with the dead Cook, you found your sneaky butler trying to make his escape by the bathroom, and bludgeoned him to death with the Lead Pipe I'd dropped on the hallway floor while running to the kitchen. The Boddy family has been wanted for organized crime—blackmail and murder—for generations. But they've always eluded the law. Until now. Tonight, the Boddy "family business" has reached...a dead end. I tell ya, this was the most exciting night I've had in a long time. And now, you're all under arrest. Okay Chief, take 'em away.

Callbacks

If callbacks are needed, you will receive an email informing you. I may just need to hear more from you for different roles.

If we need to do callbacks, I will include a copy of the script in the email. You will read for certain characters, and I will read for the other characters in the scene. Your individual callbacks will be very short, so not a lot of time commitment required!

Also included in that email will be a time that I would like to do a Zoom Meeting as your callback. They will all take place on Monday, December 7. I will send out the schedule in the email, so please let me know if you have a conflict with the time I assign you! We will figure it out!

Please note – if you do not receive a callback, that does not necessarily mean you are not cast.

If I find that I do not need to hold callbacks, I will inform you all by email as well, so you know what's going on!

Rehearsal Attendance and Behavior Policy

We are still in the middle of some weird times right now, and the beginning of the rehearsal process will still be done virtually.

Many of the rehearsals during the first part of this process will be done virtually via ZOOM. During these Zoom rehearsals, please be in a room free of as many distractions as possible. Make sure you have the camera at a good angle, and you have enough lighting that we can all see you.

We will have in-person rehearsals once we start staging the scenes. Everybody will be required to wear a mask during rehearsals and to keep as safe of distance as possible between everybody.

If you are called to a in-person rehearsal and you are not feeling well AT ALL, please do not come.

A rehearsal schedule will be given after the show is cast, but generally they are Monday-Friday from 3:30-5:30. There may be some Sunday afternoon rehearsals closer to performance time if needed.

Misconduct at rehearsals will not be tolerated. This includes, but is not limited to, destruction of props, horse-play, and disrespect of ALL individuals involved.

Filming

This production of CLUE (HIGH SCHOOL EDITION) will be performed at The Columbus Performing Arts Center (549 Franklin Avenue) like an actual play! However, there will be no audience. We will film it, edit it, and stream it in March.

All actors, stage crew, etc will be required to wear masks during the performances. Yes actors – even on stage. We are going to make a bit with it and make it part of the production. And the masks will coordinate with your costumes!

Pay to Play

If you are cast, you are required to pay a $60 Pay to Play fee. This will be due by FRIDAY, DECEMBER 11. This fee goes towards helping pay of the rights of the show, some costumes, props, set pieces, and other financial needs. This does NOT pay for the show shirt that students have the option to purchase. If you do not pay by the due date, you may not participate until it is paid. If you do not pay by FRIDAY, DECEMBER 18, you will be dismissed from the cast. Of course, exceptions can be made if you make arrangements with Mr. Collura PRIOR to the DECEMBER 11 deadline.

**Please note that while this fee helps pay for many things, students may be asked to provide some costume pieces.*

You have 2 options to turn in your Pay to Play:

1) Mail in your check (made out to Bishop Hartley High School) to:

*Jonathan Collura
1285 Zettler Road
Columbus, Ohio 43227*

2) Turn in your check or cash (in a sealed envelope) to Jonathan Collura's mailbox in the main office

Announcements

If you are cast, please make it a habit to check your email on a daily basis, if not multiple times a day. All announcements and information will be given via email. If you do not have easy access to check your email, please inform the director and arrangements will be made to get you all announcements.
