

A Catholic Tradition of Excellence in College Preparatory Education

November 3, 2020

Bishop Hartley Families,

We hope you and your families are finding peace during a challenging week in our country. There's no denying we are in a period of change where the needs for togetherness and a strong and unified belief system are critical. We are committed to this in every way, as evidenced by our Six Pillars.

We also remain committed to our efforts in offering excellence in Catholic education. We will be hosting Open Houses for prospective families and students this Thursday (6–9 p.m.) and Sunday (1–5 p.m.). With staggered start times and physical distancing, we look forward to providing a safe and educational experience for these families as they consider Bishop Hartley. Please keep us in your prayers as we continue enrollment and admissions efforts for our school.

Related, we are also in the final stages of receiving our Accreditation. This is timely as our Accreditation goals center on the importance of civil discourse and the cardinal virtues. We will keep you informed as we finalize the Accreditation process.

This week and beyond, please join me in ensuring our Bishop Hartley community, families, and students continue to act with integrity and prioritize togetherness and unity. It is the belief in unity that rallies our community around diversity, tolerance and mutual respect, regardless of an election outcome. Thank you in advance.

In addition, I remind you of the resources and staff here to support your students' emotional well-being. <https://www.bishop-hartley.org/academics/student-services/>

We continue to pray for our country, elected officials, your families, and ours. Please join us.

St. Martin De Porres, pray for us.

God bless.

A handwritten signature in black ink, appearing to read "Michael R. Winters".

Michael R. Winters
Principal